ANNUAL PUBLICATION OF
WEST GEORGIA COLLEGE
CARROLLTON, GEORGIA

IN A Symphony OF MUSIC, WE BRING YOU WEST GEORGIA COLLEGE

The Reverend Mr. Fred T. Kyle leads the student body in a Thanksgiving devotional during Religious Emphasis Week.

STUDENT LIFE IN 1952

Dedication . . .

The symphony of West Georgia could not have been played without the inspiration of the Choir. Because of the sacrifices and effort you have daily put forth to make our campus a merrier one, "the Chieftain Staff" dedicates this annual to you.

AYCOCK HALL

At the beginning of the Winter Quarter of 1951 West Georgia's men happily abandoned Storms Barracks and occupied modern new Aycock Hall, the recently completed men's dormitory. The $200,000 structure, dedicated to a man who helped found West Georgia College, Mr. J. A. Aycock, solves a long-standing housing problem for the men. Located on the western end of the campus, the brick and fireproof construction contains 52 bedrooms and other facilities for the housing of over 100 men. It is three and a half stories high, with all modern facilities and appliances.

And they can yell, too!
Look, Indian Brave, leave our Indian Princess alone, will you?

Poised because of the photographer, but with an inextinguishable spirit in their hearts, the organizations on the campus come Andante—not too fast—and not too slow.

OF THE BRAVES

This lovely lass is none other than Malry Terry.

Just a dummy, but is it hard!

CONDUCTORS

It is but natural that we call the faculty the Conductors for it is they who conduct our curricular life from beginning till end.

BRASS

Big people need big instruments . . . That's the reason we call the Juniors BRASS . . .

Practice Teachers work at Oak Mountain.

JUNIORS

"Dignified, confident, and yet ever seeking to learn more" — — this certainly represents the Juniors. They spend most of their time practice teaching at Sand Hill and Oak Mountain elementary schools. The Juniors are absent from the campus most of the time, and don't have the opportunity to become too active in clubs and organizations. However, they portray that portion of our student body which is striving forward and gradually learning to stand alone. We feel that our Juniors are the means whereby the results of the teachings of West Georgia College are brought into direct contact with others.

STRINGS

The most important section of an orchestra is that of the Strings. The Sophomores constitute the core of the student body at West Georgia College—so we call the Sophomores the Strings.

Rogers Gallagher, President; Pat Foster, Vice-President; and Jo Stewart Secretary, wait for Dr. Adams to make plans for the Homecoming Dance.

SOPHOMORES

You see those students proudly walking across the campus, looking as if they had everything at their command? They are our sophomores and they have already begun to carry their share of responsibility. It is they who instigated Freshman Week and annually initiate them in the Rat Parade. The sophomores take the lead in most of our extracurricular activities. They usually show the most interest in athletics and intramural sports. Members of the May Day Court and outstanding students are chosen each year from the sophomore class. We are proud of our sophomores for their leadership, abilities, and good character.

FRESHMEN

You ask why those boys and girls are scurrying down the halls and over the campus, seeming to take in everything at once? Those are freshmen, and they just naturally bubble over with energy. It is they who create and initiate new ideas at West Georgia College. The freshmen make up the undecurrent of ever growing and developing leaders and personalities. Our freshmen, representing the core of our student body, complete our circle of personalities at West Georgia College.

The West Georgian, student newspaper here at West Georgia College, ranks extremely high in its field in comparison with publications from other colleges of comparable size. For the past several years, the West Georgian has received a rating of First Class—excellent from the Associated Collegiate Press, which judges and compares college papers throughout the land.

Published monthly throughout the school year, the West Georgian is comprised of six tabloid-size pages. A Staff of nearly thirty-five has worked together this year on the paper, under the editorship of Pat Flury and Tracy Stallings, and under the faculty sponsorship of Miss Marie Campbell.

The West Georgian is particularly noted for its strong editorial page. The ACP had had particular praise for this section of the paper in their rating scorebook, which stated: "Your editorial policy is strong; subjects are varied; style is celar."

The West Georgian makes it a practice to give voice to the opinions of the students, and strives to serve them and the college in the best possible manner. Certainly this "newspaper of distinction" is "devoted to the best interests of West Georgia College."

West Georgia College students can well be proud of their combined Men and Women's Student Government. Under the leadership of President Ingram, the Council has fast made its way into the limelight of campus student organizations. The Student Government this year, under the direction of Dr. Michael, Dean of Men, and Mrs. Shannon, Dean of Women, and the administration authorities, has accomplished several projects. President Ingram brought ideas from other colleges throughout the south and led in the revisions of our constitution. Three Student-Faculty committees were organized for the purpose of studying three aspects of West Georgia College's work: (1) Improvement of instruction; (2) Moral and spiritual values of the college individual; and (3) Public Relations.

The Council was host at the reception preceding the Christmas choir concert. The reception was held at Aycock Hall. Council members guided visitors and the West Georgia faculty and students on a tour through the new dormitory. A constant duty of members of the Council is to act as hosts and guides for visitors on the campus. Members sponsored a "Coffee Hour" during the January Debate Tournament. This social hour was held in Mandeville Lobby for visiting debaters from other colleges as well as the W. G. C. faculty and students. We are looking for and expecting great things to come from the Student Government. As Mr. Ingram says, "Membership in the Student Government will be the highest honor to be achieved on the campus."

....The Student Government is led by these capable officers. Barbara Reed, Secretary; Teddy Brown, President; Bob Fowler, Sergeant-at-Arms; Melba Johnson, Vice-President.

DAY STUDENTS

This group is composed of students who do not live on the campus, but commute from Carrollton and surrounding areas. The day students constitute a large part of the student body and their efforts and achievements are welcomed by the college.

Day Student Representatives are Barbara Reed, Betty Jean Walker, Tracy Stallings, Garfield Wilson, and Scott Gray.

ALPHA PSI

Alpha Psi is devoted to those students who are interested in Home Economics. The young women find great help and pleasure in the art of homemaking in their own club. Programs are given at the meetings concerning personal grooming, good clothing design, foods and cookery, and other arts of Home Economics. This year the club sponsored the election of the May Day Queen and May Court. Several members of the club have attained state and nation-wide awards in Home Economics. The club is affiliated with the State and National Home Economics Clubs.

F. T. A.

Future Teachers of America is composed of students majoring in education. Its chief purposes are to interest the best young men and women in education as a career and to give teachers in training practical experience in working together in a democratic way on the problems of the profession and the community. This year the F. T. A. officers presented a program to the student body on the activities and projects of the organization. F. T. A. is an integral part of the state and national education associations.

Officers are Betty Jaynes, Vice President; Dewell Pitts, Treasurer; Mariellen Strickland, President; and Winona Saturday, Secretary.

First Row: King, Blalock, Bell. Second Row: McKibben, Lewis, Head, Foster, Salter, Frost, Ayers, Holcombe.

V. R. A. officers are: Adeline Elliott, Secretary; Barbara Reed, President; and Jenna Lee Wilson, Vice-President.

V. R. A.

All members of the student body are members of the Voluntary Religious Organization. The V. R. A. Council, whose members are selected from those interested in spiritual activities on the campus, has charge of the activities of the V. R. A. Each year V. R. A. sponsors Religious Emphasis Week, during which devotionals are given each morning and evening. This year the Reverend Mr. Fred T. Kyle, from the Episcopal Church of LaGrange, was the guest speaker. He talked to the students at each devotional service. This series of programs is one of the highlights of West Georgia College's activities. Members of the V. R. A. Council, who are students of all denominations, sponsor all religious activities on the campus and vespers once a week. Under the guidance and help of Miss Marian Crider, V. R. A. has become one of the most active organizations on the Campus.

F. B. L. A.

Future Business Leaders of America is open to any students taking one or more commercial subjects. This year F. B. L. A. sponsored a writing contest on the subject: "What F. B. L. A. Will Mean to the Students After Graduation From W. G. C." A Staff composed of five members publishes "The Flash" bimonthly. It is a mimeographed paper which contains news of interest to commercial students. The Reporters Committee compiled a scrapbook this year on projects and activities and entered it in the state contest. The organization sponsored recreation and was responsible for a float in the Homecoming Parade. Members obtain office practice by working for individual faculty members. F. B. L. A. truly lives up to its purpose of giving students an opportunity to study the newest development in the business field, and to learn to appreciate good business ethics.

Those members who participate in the debates are Watson, Cooley, Johnson, Boom, Stallings and Cook.

Not pictured are Yvonne Watkins and Scott Gray.

ZETA SIGMA PI

The motto for which Zeta Sigma Pi stands—"Investigation, Discussion, Action"—best explains the purpose of the club. The programs of the bimonthly meetings deal with current topcis through forums, lectures, debates, and pictures. Three panels are formed in order to meet the needs of all members and to capitalize on the main interest of each. Those persons who are interested in the social, economic, and political sciences are responsible for intramural and intercollegiate debating.

Each year the biggest project of the organization is to sponsor a Debate Tournament for colleges in West Georgia. This event is anticipated by everyone on the campus. This year at the close of the Tournament the club had charge of a talent show, followed by a dance, in honor of the visiting debaters. All W. C. C. faculty members and students were invited. The Intramural debates are held in assembly once every quarter. The interesting and timely topics discussed in the programs serve to keep the students better informed of the current world news and events.

SOCIAL SCIENCE

Those students particularly interested in the study of social science are Watson, Pitts, Foster, Cook, Philips, Boom, Cooley, Johnson and Stallings.

"W" CLUB

The "W" Club is composed of men who have won letters in one or more sports at West Georgia College. The club stands for the highest ideals in sportsmanship and fair play at West Georgia College. The efforts of this group are to increase participation in sports and school spirit.

EL CIRCULO ESPANOL

This club is for the study and development of interest in the Spanish language. Folk lore, songs, and literature of Spanish-speaking countries are studied.

Dr. Adams tells a poem in Spanish to the club members. Seated are: Gentry, Howell, Boom, and Fowler. Standing are: Foster, Watson, and Thrash.

Members of the French Club are learning "Lie Vie en Rose." Clockwise around the piano are: Sanders, Ivey, Bishop, Mosteller, Rice, Causby, Muse, Gray, House, Rutland, Dr. Adams, Boom, Zuker.

LE CERCLE FRANCAIS

French literature, music, customs, and facts of general interest about France are high-lighted in the French Club meetings. This year several programs were devoted to learning French songs and games. Most of the members have taken courses in French language, but any student interested in French life and culture is entitled to be a member of the organization. The club sponsored a program for recreation in November and provided enjoyable entertainment for the students.

CHOIR

These are the capable members of the Choir Council. Seated: Cooley, Jones, Flury, Wilson, Jaynes. Standing: Boom, Hawes, Prince, and Victor Sayre, Director.

What frequently has been termed the largest and most active organization on the West Georgia College campus is the a cappella choir, which is recognized throughout this section as a most outstanding junior college singing group. The choir this year has been comprised of about fifty-five members and has been under the direction of the energetic Victor Sayre, who took over as director following the resignation of Miss Jane Woodruff last summer.

The choir fulfilled a very busy schedule, stretching through all three quarters. First big event wa sthe Christmas concert. Then the busy spring itenerary, and finally, the final concert climaxing the year's activities. Every year, hundreds of people look forward to the Christmas concert, and last December the auditorium was filled to capacity with friends and relatives on hand to see and hear the inspiring program, presented in magnificent style.

Early in the spring, the choir made the first of a series of appearances at various high schools, civic clubs, and other occasions throughout this section of the state. And then the year was culminated with the presentation of the annual concert in the auditorium.

The choir certainly lives up to its name of

"largest and most active." It takes the lead in many campus activities, and as someone has said, "When there's a big job to be done, the choir is called on." Not only is it highly respected here in the "college community", but it is also widely known as the best choir in this section. The West Georgia College Choir has established a tradition of fine performance and devotion to the ideals of good music.

West Georgia is mighty proud of its a cappella choir.

THE CHIEFTAIN

Editor Betty Jean Walker and Assistant Editor Donna Wendorf check over club copy.

The Chieftain Staff no doubt will always remember the sacrifices that were made for the 1952 edition of the Chieftain. Why, almost any day you could find . . .

Betty Jean posting picture schedules on the bulletin board . . . writing last-minute copy . . . flying up and down the halls seeking overdue assignments. . . . Donna with her room piled sky-high working on layout sheets . . . drawing and redrawing. . . . Robert (Click-Click) in the dark room . . . running across the campus with camera in one hand and a list of pictures to take in the other. . . . Jo, Jenny, and Faye busy with student names, hometowns, and activities. . . . Mary Jim, Frances, and Patricia wearily making trips to town selling advertisements. . . . Norman, Pat C., Beverly, and Evelyn struggling over club sketches. . . . Pat Foster, Jean, and Tracy arranging club data. . . . Jane and Pat Flurry getting sport news. . . . DeRita and Dora Jean frantically typing copy . . .

Yes, the staff wasn't long in realizing that all doesn't run smoothly in the making of a yearbook. But the entire Chieftain staff feels that if this annual will help to recall pleasant memories of this year, hen every minute was well worth it.

Jo Williams, Faye Lanier, and Jenny Knight, Class Editors, are checking pictures for the annual.

Dora Jean Marlow, Mary Bishop, DeRita Frost, and Evelyn King typing student names for the Chieftain.

Business Manager Mary Jim Combs and her staff—Patricia Windom, Frances Holsomback and Joan Lewis—keep the financial matters of the Chieftain straight.

Pat Foster and Tracy Stallings, Clubs Editors, check over the copy for the clubs and organizations.

We are the people who work to give you each year an annual— a book of memories to remind all of us of many good times and swell friends that we wish never to forget. We hope to give you just such a record in pictures, words and thoughts so that what you experience at W. G. C. will always be fresh in your minds and hearts.

Photographer Robert Nix explains his camera to Sports Editors Jane Philips and Pat Flury.

West Georgia had a somewhat unsuccessful season insofar as winning is concerned. Their schedule included some of the best junior college teams in Georgia, Alabama, Tennessee, and South Carolina. Against all of them, the Braves made a creditable showing, being handicapped throughout the year with lack of experience and recurrent injuries to key men. Several boys on the squad had never played football before, but came through fine under Coach Leven Hazlegrove and Assistant Coach J. W. Greenwood.

The Braves played their best game of the season against Hiwassee Junior College in their first home game, but a couple of bad breaks and a fancy-stepping halfback combined to cause defeat for the Braves. With rain pouring down continually throughout the contest, the Braves went down to defeat in Milledgeville, falling before Georgia Military College, 32 to 7. The sloppy weather handicapped the Braves, as their offensive weapon was missing. Middle Georgia College, from Cochran, cut loose with a hopped-up offense on West Georgia and thwarted the Braves in their sixth effort of the season to get in the win column. The Wolverines won, 43 to 12. Gordon Military College scored in every quarter to defeat West Georgia, 46-0, in a game that was marked by hard hitting and hard running at a terrific pace.

An exciting moment for the Braves as Teddy Brown carries the pigskin.

The end of a game well played.

Lloyd Smith, guard, and Sonny Ackerman, quarterback, were chosen by their teammates to co-captain them through the current football campaign. Smith hails from Gainesville and Ackerman is from Atlanta. Both are sophomores, and have played outstanding ball for the Braves. The football players elected quarterback Teddy Brown, of Covington, as the Braves' outstanding player of the year. Brown alternated the quarterbacking duties during the season and was a consistent effective passer as well as runner. He played football two years at Newton High School in Covington.

An offensively-powerful machine from North Greenville Junior College spoiled West Georgia College's Homecoming celebration by crushing the Braves 26 to 0. Greenwood, Teddy Brown, Arlin Barr, Bob Fowler, and Cotten McMullen did some good running. Once the Braves reached the North Greenville one-yard-line, but were repulsed. Coach Hazlegrove praised the line play of Ronald Stegall and Henry Bailey.

Sonny Ackerman flings a pass in the Hiwassee game.

The purpose of the Women's Athletic Association is to foster and promote interest in athletic activities, to develop good sportsmanship, and to develop some degree of skill and to increase the enjoyment of athletics for women at West Georgia College. W. A. A. sponsors the girls' intramural program; every woman on the campus automatically becomes a member. The organization, supervised by Miss Ruth Sturgis, teaches these girls the value of good, clean play and helps them become healthier physically and more alert mentally.

Women's Sports Managers are: Sidney Clarkson, hockey; Emily Jones, golf; Edith Head, volley ball; Pat Foster, softball; Jo Stewart, basketball; and Gerre Musick, tennis.
